Cheatham was arrested by Special Officer Webb and was bailed in the sum of $100 for his appearance before Justice Gregory this morning.

Fined $10 for Beating His Daughter.

A large number of Mr. Acree's friends were present and the occasion was a very enjoyable one. Music, recitations and refreshments helped to make the evening pleasant. Mr. Acree and Mr. L. G. Broughton both made short addresses. Mr. Acree will leave this morning for his home in Knoxville.

What the Police Force Has Been Doing.

Chief-of-Police Dyer has been in office for nearly six months, and during that time the force under him have made an excellent record. Since December 31 there have been 911 arrests and the fines paid into the city treasury have amounted to $850. Officers Rigney and Moss lead in the number of arrests, both having made ninety-three. Officer Griffin is a close second with eighty-seven.

Since the above figures were compiled nine more arrests were made, which brings the total up to 920. Of these Officer Rigney arrested five. This puts him in the lead with a total of ninety-eight arrests.

Colored Boy Burglars.

The store of John Hubbard, in the West End, was broken into sometime yesterday morning and a quantity of flour and other goods stolen. Last night Officer Rigney arrested Charles Hancock, John Hancock, W. A. Taliferro, Sonny Wallace and James Wallace, all colored boys, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years. James Wallace confessed that he entered the store through a window and handed the goods out to the others. He said that he was told to do so by his companions. James is the smallest of the lot and does not look to be more than ten years of age. They will have a hearing before Police Justice Turner this morning.

A SUCCESSFUL LAWN FETE.

Beautiful Affair Held Last Night Which Will Be Repeated To-night.

The spacious lawn in front of the residence of Cary A. Moomaw, at the corner of Tenth avenue and Franklin road, presented a beautiful and animated scene last night, the occasion being the lawn fete given by the ladies of the Second Presbyterian Church for the benefit of the society.

The whole lawn was illuminated with rows of Chinese lanterns suspended from arches and around the borders of the green and from the branches of the trees, which formed a leafy covering overhead. Around the edges of the lawn cosy little tents were pitched for the couples who wished to enjoy a taste-a-taste over their ice creams or coffees. Other booths where candies and other refreshments could be secured were scattered about the lawn and were presided over by the charming young ladies and the agreeable matrons of the society.

In such tasteful surroundings and under such favorable circumstances the fete could not have been other than successful, and such it was from a social and financial standpoint. The refreshments were of the usual high quality; they were served with promptness by the fair attendants, and in variety could have suited the most fastidious.

While it had been intended to hold the fete only upon one night the affair was so successful that, at the request of many who were in attendance and for the benefit of those who, on account of engagements, were unable to be present last night, it was decided to hold another to-night. It is assured of a liberal attendance from the many who always enjoy such occasions given by this church.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. So it's a druggist's best-seller.

A BLAMED SIGHT WORSE.

A bachelor, old and cranky, Was sitting alone in his room, His toes with gout were aching, And his face was overspread with gloom.

No little ones' shouts disturbed him, From noises the house was free— In fact, from the attic to cellar, Was quiet as quiet could be.

No medical aid was lacking, The servants answered his ring, Respectfully heard his orders, And supplied him with everything.

But still there was something wanting, Something he couldn't command— The kindly words of compassion, The touch of a gentle hand.

And he said as his brow grew darker, And he rang for the hired nurse, "Well, marriage may be a failure, But this is a blamed sight worse!" —Boston Courier.

Couldn't Fool Him.

Charles Johnson, a negro, though of Swedish nomenclature, had been arrested for highway robbery out on Independence avenue. A toy pistol, which had served him in "making a bluff," and a handful of small coin were taken from him. He was then ushered before the captain for the usual catechism.

"Let's see, what were you in for the last time, Charley?"

"Never done bean heah befo', boss."

"Oh, come, now, Charley; you've been here a dozen times before."

"May do good Lawd 'nilate me, boss, I've tellin' yuh do troof!"

"Well, take him and lock him up."

"Hol on der, cap'n, ain't yuh gwine ter let me hab my money?"

"Well, I guess not," said the captain, winking at the lieutenant. "This is my rakeoff. Do you suppose I can stay here for nothing?"

"But yuh'll let me hab it in de mawnin', won't yuh?"

"No, sir."

"Not affah the jedgo gits t'rough wid me?"

"No."

"Say, yuh can't fool me dat a-way, boss. I've bean heah befo'!"

Then the old dorky was taken down stairs, wondering what everybody was laughing about. —Kansas City Times.

Boiled Fish Sandwiches.

You may find it hard to believe that sandwiches made from boiled fish are good, but if when you have a bit of boiled halibut left from dinner you make a few for luncheon or tea you will find them very good. The fish should of course have the flavor that comes from boiling it in salted water with a bouquet of vegetables—say a slice of onion, a stalk of celery or a sprig of parsley and half a dozen peppercorns. Break up the fish with a fork; then take a wooden spoon and rub it as fine as possible. Make it into a seasoned paste by adding a fourth of a pint of sweet cream, a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of white pepper or paprika, and at the very last and gradually a tablespoonful of lemon juice. This amount of seasoning is for 1½ pounds of fish. Cut your bread very thin, spread the slices with a little butter and then with the fish. Lay between the slices before putting the two together a small, tender lettuce leaf. —New York Post.

A Use For Half Burned Carbons.

There is already a demand for the unused and half burned carbons from the arc lights. Some one has discovered that carbon is a cure for consumption, and it is a well known fact that men who work in carbon factories are singularly healthy. Just how the fragments of carbon are broken up and the particles inhaled does not appear, but people collect them a good deal and profess to derive benefit from their use. It has been claimed for years that a smoky atmosphere is a good one for a consumptive patient, although this has been denied by doctors again and again. The carbon theory may account for what some people believe to be nonsense and others an infallible theory. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Absentminded.

Professor Dunsberry of Columbia college is so completely absorbed in his profession that he is becoming more and more absentminded every day. He remarked to one of the students:

"Something very stupid happened to me the other morning. I believe I am becoming a little absentminded."

"What is it?"

"You see, I wanted to take my wife out in a buggy and give her some fresh air, and when I came to think over I remembered that I never had a wife."

—Texas Siftings.

What Did She Mean?

Dickie—So you've taken up the physical culture fad? I hear you are exercising on a rowing machine and indulging in long walks in the park. What does it all mean?

Daisy—Well, you see, it develops—but wait until you see me down at the seashore a couple of months hence. —Boston Courier.

The driest place in the United States at any point where regular observations are taken is Fort Garland, Colo. Less than six inches of rain fall there during the year. There are, however, localities in Arizona, Nevada and Utah where rain has never been known to fall.

The Vienna police have general charge of all newspapers and keep records of all presses and publications, maintain a censorship over all theaters and plays, issue licenses for the publication and sale of all books, magazines and periodicals.

A. Andrews of Toronto has in his possession a lock and key of massive weight, which he claims to be the identical instrument used by Cromwell for securing the crown jewels of England.

Of a mistaken philanthropist Jerrold said he was "so benevolent, so merciful a man he would have held an umbrella over a duck in a shower of rain."

Cicero was a notable punster. A collection, not now extant, of his puns was made by Julius Caesar.

A VERY HAPPY PASTOR.

Both He and His Good Wife Are Now Rejoicing,

But Suffered Once—One of the Most Thankful and Sincere Letters Ever Written by Any Man.

In the famous fight off Cherbourg the Alabama fired a shell which entered the rudder-post of the Kearsarge—and stuck there.

If that shell had exploded, the engagement would have had a different ending.

That was Providence in the shape of a bad fuse.

"In our case," writes a clergyman who possessed the rare art of putting things, "in our case Providence appeared in the shape of a pamphlet tucked under a string."

"It was in this strange way" he continues, "that we first learned of Paskola, that has since done such wonders for my wife and myself. We have taken only $4.50 worth—less than the price of one visit from our physician—yet it has accomplished what no doctor's prescriptions or patent medicines have ever done."

"For twenty-five years I have suffered untold miseries from a disordered stomach. For years I have had to abstain from meats; but after only one day's use of Paskola I have eaten meat, or any other food my appetite craved, with no ill results."

"In regard to my wife I hardly know how to write. It certainly appears like a miracle. Months passed with her most miserably. She had no appetite. So reduced in flesh and vitality was she that we were looking for nothing short of a speedy death."

"But Providence intervened in the shape of a little pamphlet tucked under the string of a package brought from a neighboring town."

"I tossed it on the table with the remark, 'Here, wife, is something to cure your ills and give you an appetite.'"

"She read it and said to me, 'I have faith to believe if I had that Paskola it would cure me.'"

"The next mail carried an order for a bottle. The second day brought the bottle and she took the first dose. That was four weeks ago. To-day she can eat a hearty meal of anything she craves—something she had not done for months."

"I regret we did not weigh ourselves before we commenced to take Paskola, but the truth is I had no great faith in it—so many things had failed. But you have our lasting gratitude."

"I write you this not to obtain a supply free, but because I have the good of my fellow men at heart."

"I have already induced a few people to give your Paskola a trial. When they shall have done so I will gladly notify you of the results."

"Hoping under God that what I have thus hastily written may benefit others, I remain yours truly,

"REV. A. P. BEEBE.

"Worth Centre, N. Y., April 14, 1894." We congratulate Mr. Beebe and his good wife upon the wonders that followed their use of Paskola. To them that little book tucked under a string was a Providence indeed.

Paskola is doing similar wonders all over the land. And people tell us of it in like grateful and enthusiastic words.

What is Paskola? It is artificially digested starch combined with certain fruit principles which aid the digestion of other foods—as Mr. Beebe has shown. Mark! It is a food not a dough. It stimulates, strengthens, revives and fattens the weak and run-down body, even though the torpid stomach can give it no help. Paskola is concentrated nourishment, digested by art, in advance. Taken into the system it goes straight to its destination. Not an hour is lost. It is now, its principle is new, it is fundamental, scientific, successful. Dyspeptics, consumptives, all thin pale, wasted and helpless people will be rescued by it. Throw physic to the dogs—try Paskola.

And send to the Pre-digested Food Company, 30 Reade street, New York, for a copy of that pamphlet that Mr. Beebe found tucked under the string.

For sale by Johnson & Johnson, corner of Jefferson street and First avenue southwest.

A Handsome Book on Summer Travel.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has just issued a handsome book descriptive of the various summer resorts, in the mountains and by the seaside, adjacent to or reached by its system of lines.

It is finely printed and illustrated by a number of very fine cuts. Send 10 cents to Chas. O. Scull, general passenger agent, Baltimore, Md., for a copy.

RECOMMEND Johnson's Magnetic Oil for rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains, bruises, lame back; it quickly relieves pain. Christian & Barbee's.
